

Searching for a Severe Problem in XpoSearch

You can search in the log for any problem that is detected by Analytics as one of the ten most severe problems, by zooming into the XpoSearch search engine from any problem in the Most Severe Problems table. If XpoSearch finds the problem, it displays it in the search results area, and the Analytics engine highlights the priority accordingly.

To search for a most severe problem in XpoSearch:

- In the Most Severe Problems Table, click the problem or click the Search in XpoSearch button at the end of the row of the problem. XpoSearch opens, running a search for the problem in the log events. The problem text is highlighted in the events of the log.
