

Refining a Search

You can refine (augment) a search using the following two methods:

- Adding a column value of an event resulting from the original search to the search query (see Refining a Search Based on Events).
- Adding a problem detected in the original search, to the search query (see Augmenting a Search with Detected Problems).